

Canva Resume Templates

Canva has over 18,000 resume templates that you can edit for free. We don't recommend using Canva if you're applying to large employers who tend to use applicant tracking systems (ATS) that read resumes automatically. Instead, use these templates if you are applying for a small company or more creative roles. Keep in mind that some of the templates include a space for a photo of yourself, but this is not a standard practice in the US so it can be omitted.

To create a resume template in Canva, start with a source document of all the text you'd ideally like to fit into your resume. Then, fit what you can onto the template you've chosen, and don't worry about moving the design elements around to fit the sections you want on your resume.

The screenshot displays the Canva website interface for resume templates. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the Canva logo, menu items like 'Design spotlight', 'Business', 'Education', 'Plans and pricing', and 'Learn', a search bar with the text 'Search thousands of templates', and utility icons for help, settings, notifications, and a 'Create a design' button. A left sidebar contains a navigation menu with options like 'Home', 'All templates', 'Business', 'Presentation', 'Whiteboard', 'Prototype', 'Mind Map', 'Website', 'Graph', 'Planner', 'Letterhead', 'Calendar', and 'Resume' (which is highlighted). The main content area shows a breadcrumb trail: 'Home > Templates > Business > Resume > Professional resumes'. Below this is a large banner for 'Professional resume templates' with the text: 'Impress potential employers by putting together your skills set and work history in an impactful summary designed with free, professional resume templates from Canva.' To the right of the banner is a preview of a resume for 'MARCELINE ANDERSON'. Below the banner, it says '6,575 templates'. A grid of resume templates is shown, including a 'Create a blank Professional Resume' button and several preview cards for different styles: 'POWELL FINWOOD', 'MORGAN MAXWELL', 'MARIANA NAPOLIAXI', 'MADDER BUSO', and 'Alexander Aronowitz'. Each preview card shows a sample of the resume layout with various sections like 'About Me', 'Education', 'Experience', 'Skills', and 'Contact'.
