Rezi

More and more companies are using applicant tracking systems (ATS) to help them make hiring decisions. Improve your chances of being selected for an interview by using Rezi's AI-powered resume builder. Rezi's AI Writer follows best resume bullet point practices and understands what kind of skills and experience employers need, so it can help you complete your resume in minutes.

Start by creating a free account. Then you'll be asked to submit information about your experience, projects, education, certifications, coursework, involvement, skills, etc. that will be included on your resume. Along the way, Rezi's AI Writer will generate suggestions that you can choose to save or apply. Rezi will format your resume using their clean resume templates that you can download.