Global Mentorship Initiative (GMI) is a program that partners with SNHU. It is available to all Rivet School's active BA fellows and BA grads (up to 12 months) for free. You are matched with a mentor who leads 12 one-hour mentoring sessions. Each session is focused on preparing you to excel in your career. You'll work on writing a resume and cover letter, applying for jobs online, and practicing your interview skills. Please note that the GMI program is designed for students who are earlier on in their careers. If you already have a lot of work experience, your mentor might end up being more of a peer mentor. There is no deadline to apply so let your College Coach know if you're interested or fill out this Career Coaching Request Form!
